

LET'S KEEP ARIZONA MOVING FORWARD

Three Commissioner seats on the Arizona Corporation Commission (ACC) are on the ballot this election. These Commissioners have the power to regulate our utilities like water, electricity, and natural gas. They make decisions that affect affordable energy, good-paying jobs, and a stronger future for Arizona.

VOTE EARLY from now until Nov. 1

ELECTION DAY is Nov. 5,
with polls open 6am—7pm

For more information, visit arizona.vote

ARIZONA'S ENERGY FUTURE IS IN YOUR HANDS.

The ACC is a key decision-making body that has the power to set energy rates, create renewable energy commitments, and decide on clean energy and fossil fuel projects in Arizona. This November, your vote can stand for policies that affect Arizona's economy, affordable energy, public health, and Arizona's natural beauty for future generations.

- The Commission has:
- ✓ Passed three major rate hikes
 - ✓ Voted against renewable energy commitments
 - ✓ Disregarded environmental reviews to approve fossil fuel power plant expansions

Your community is counting on you to vote.

Races like the ACC have a huge impact on your community. Remember: who you vote for is secret, but whether or not you vote is public information.

Vote early from now until Nov. 1

Election Day is Nov. 5, with polls open 6am–7pm

For more information, visit arizona.vote

Climate Emergency Advocates
529 Main St Ste 200
Charlestown, MA 02129-1119

ACE24005

PRSRT STD
U.S. Postage
PAID
DS