

OUR LEADERS AGREE: Michele Morrow and Mark Robinson are wrong for North Carolina.

“I was shocked by [Michele Morrow’s] complete lack of understanding of how public schools function and what the job of state superintendent is.”

Catherine Truitt,
Republican NC Superintendent of Public Instruction
[Education Week, 6/17/2024]

“Spewing terrorist propaganda and calling for public executions of elected officials you disagree with are things we usually hear from radical fundamentalists in places like Iran, Afghanistan, and Russia, not candidates running for office in North Carolina.”

Spokesman for U.S. Senator
Thom Tillis (R-NC)
[CBS 17, 3/18/2024]

“[Michele Morrow] has never taught in a public school or been employed as a faculty member. Her previous political experience is an unsuccessful run for the Wake County school board in 2022. Morrow... will likely further politicize an office that is, by design, nonpartisan.”

NC Chamber

[NC Chamber, 3/6/2024]

“Robinson just exemplifies extremism. He plays right into the Democratic theme that Republicans are a bunch of extremists.”

Judge Bob Orr,
Republican Former NC Supreme Court Justice
[NOTUS, 9/9/2024]

Michele Morrow and Mark Robinson:

Radical Cruel Rhetoric

Dangerous Political Violence

Recklessly Defunding Schools

Betraying
North Carolina

Michele Morrow and Mark Robinson are too dangerous for North Carolina.

“[Public schools] have become
cesspools of perversion,
foolishness, and VIOLENCE.”

[Mark Robinson, Facebook, 2/14/2018]

“KILL all TRAITORS!!!!”

[The News & Observer, 3/18/2024]

“[Public schools are] an absolute cesspool of evil and lies.”

[The 74, 8/7/2024]

Their radical extremism threatens the future of our children and our state. We can't afford to elect leaders who support political violence and will fail our schools.
